100 Indians Die In Crash

120 Hurt As Trains Collide

BOMBAY (AP)—At least 100 Indians were feared killed today and 120 injured when two suburban trains jammed with commuters crashed together in a Bombay suburb.

Five hours after the early morning collision, railway officials announced 52 bodies had been counted and there were 106 injured so far.

Traffic on the city's railways, which carry two million persons daily, was disrupted while doctors, firemen and police struggled through the wreckage to rescue trapped commuters. Each train reportedly carried more than 1,500 passengers.

Firemen used blowtorches to cut their way into twisted aluminum coaches in which men, women and school children were trapped.

The accident was thought to be the worst in western India's rail history. It occurred near a grade crossing north of Malunga Station, nine miles from Victoria Station in downtown Bombay.

The collision occurred at the 7 a.m. rush hour. One train bound from Victoria to Thana Junction, 20 miles to the north, was being switched to another track. The other train was en route to the central terminal.

The impact sent the first three cars of one train off the tracks. Service on the central railway was stopped at once, halting movement to Madras, Calcutta and New Delhi.

Thousands of persons rushed to the crash scene in a crowded residential area while hundreds of police tried to cord off the area.

The first carriage of the Thana-bound train was the worst hit. Most of the occupants were women, including scores of vegetable vendors.

The Municipal General Hospital at nearby Sion was set apart for accident casualties and closed to other admissions while the Indian navy's Shore Hospital rushed 100 doctors and nurses to Matunga to treat the injured.

Victoria Terminus platforms, nine miles from the accident spot, were soaked with blood as dozens of casualties were brought for admission to the Downtown Hospital.

Soon after the collision another suburban train running on a track nearby was stopped by irate spectators who objected to its motion trying to speed through. The motionman was injured by the stone-throwing crowd, which police controlling with difficulty. Some police were injured.

The motionmen of the two crashed locomotives escaped injury, though one was thrown out of the train.

Variety Of Bills Face Congress This Week

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Congress follows the course charted by its leaders, this could be one of its busiest weeks of the year.

Scheduled for action in both branches is an assortment of legislation dealing with a wide range of subjects including prevention of cruelty to animals and the expenditure of billions of dollars.

As usual the program for the start of the week is light. The House considers today bills to boost the amount of bonds that may be issued by the Tennessee Valley Authority and to broaden the Foreign Service Building Act. The Senate schedule calls for action on several private bills.

Later in the week, with no definite timetable worked out, the Senate may act on House-passed bills boosting the national debt ceiling; appropriating funds to finance the Agriculture, Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments; making it a federal crime to mistreat animals used for research purposes, and levying "a buck a

Brush Fire Threatens Condors

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen hundred fire fighters were in virtual hand-to-hand combat today against a 20,000-acre brush and pine fire which threatened the bathing area of the nearly extinct California condors in Los Padres National Forest.

"It is strictly a hand-to-hand show," said U.S. Forest Service officer Ray Dalton. "There are steep bluffs, big canyons. The wind is coming from the east, which makes it dangerous."

Towering clouds of smoke cast an orange-tinted pall over the seaside resort town of Santa Barbara, about 35 miles to the south.

Five hundred expert Indian fire fighters arrived on the lines through the night, airlifted from Arizona and New Mexico. Other fire fighters moved in from all over California by bus and plane.

Eight aircraft, which dropped fire retardant solution on the blaze Sunday were to be pressed into service again.

Helicopters airlifted fire fighters into the inferno area which is nearly without roads.

A light plane crash touched off the blaze Saturday. So remote was the crash scene, the spreading fire was not visible from a Forest Service watchtower until Sunday morning.

Two airmen from nearby Vandenberg Air Force Base were killed and two injured in the crash of the single engine plane.

U.S. UPS PRICE PROPS TO MAKE WHEAT COMPETITIVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is increasing its price supports to make U.S. wheat competitive in the world market.

A year ago, the Agriculture Department was paying export subsidies ranging from 25 to 38 cents a bushel on wheat sold abroad by commercial exporters. The variation reflected various grades and classes.

The subsidies are designed to permit exporters to meet prices at which other countries are selling their wheat.

Subsidies presently range from 26 to 60 cents. This increase means wheat prices in this country have increased more than they have in world markets.

The major subsidy increases have been for spring wheat shipped from Duluth, Minn., and East Coast points and in hard winter wheat shipped from Gulf Ports. The spring wheat rate increased from 38 to 53 cents while the hard winter wheat rate rose from 29 to 60 cents.

"bale" tax on cotton to finance research programs if growers approve.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hopes to whip into shape the annual foreign aid authorization bill, while its Agriculture Committee may start work on a two-year, $6.6 billion Food for Freedom measure passed last week by the House.

The House expects to spend all day Tuesday debating and voting on a $17.8-billion defense procurement measure passed by the Senate with a smaller price tag. The bill has been on the House calendar more than two weeks and its consideration already has been postponed twice.

The balance of the House week will be spent considering bills extending the 1951 Re-negotiation Act and the 1950 Defense Production Act and amending the foreign investors tax law.

House committee action will focus on the foreign aid bill, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, automobile safety, a new civil rights program and President Johnson's new antipoverty proposals.

Expect Good Turnout At Tuesday Primary

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite the absence of any hot top-level political scraps, Illinois' first June primary election Tuesday is expected to draw upward of two million votes.

It is an unusual off-year situation because all 58 seats in the recently redistricted state Senate are in contention this year, and 30 nominations are being contested—13 on the Democratic side and 17 by Republicans.

In Chicago, Mayor Richard J. Daley's $195 million public improvements bond issue has stirred as much controversy as many of the candidates have.

The top statewide contests are those for U.S. Senate nomination. Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas, 72, seeks his fourth six-year term without primary opposition. But he has been campaigning energetically to offset a vigorous drive by Charles H. Percy of Kenilworth for the Republican nomination.

Percy, 46, retired chairman of Bell and Howell Co., did a strenuous political campaign apprenticeship two years ago when he challenged Gov. Otto Kerner in Kerner's successful bid for re-election. Percy was expected to have little trouble heading off his competitors for the Senate nomination—Lar Daly, Chicago chair, jobber and perennial candidate, and little-known Howard J. Doyle.

In two other state-wide office races: State Rep. Adlai E. Stevenson III, son of the late chief of the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, is unopposed for the Democratic State treasurer nomination. Harris Rowe of Jacksonville has a clear track for the Republican treasurer nomination.

Ray Page of Springfield, Republican superintendent of public instruction, has nominal opposition for renomination from Robert A. Campbell of Worth. Donald Prince of Bloomington is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

District nominations include those for all 177 seats in the Illinois House. Three members (Turn To Page Five)

Two U.S. Planes Downed

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy pilot destroyed the 13th Communist MIG of the war in an air battle between the key North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong Sunday and narrowly missed getting a second. But two U.S. planes were lost in new air attacks against the Communist north today.

Cmdr. Hal L. Marr, 40, of Roseburg, Ore., scored the hit on the MIG with his second heat-seeking Sidewinder in a numerically equal dogfight between four F8 Crusader jets from the carrier Hancock and four Soviet-designed MIGs.

A U.S. spokesman said the encounter occurred 31 miles northwest of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's main port, and 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, the capital.

The missile homed in on the MIG's hot tailpipe and destroyed it. Marr, commanding officer of Fighter Squadron 211 aboard the Hancock, attacked another MIG with his 20mm cannon and hit its right wing but ran out of ammunition before he could finish off the enemy plane. The damaged plane apparently limped home.

A twin-jet U.S. Air Force B57 Canberra fighter-bomber vanished with its two crewmen east of the Mu Gia Pass today, while an Air Force F4C Phantom jet was shot down by ground fire northwest of coastal Dong Hoi City. Parachutes were seen but the two fliers were listed as missing.

They were the 261st and 262nd American planes reported lost over the Communist north.

In the jungled central highlands of South Viet Nam, U.S. paratroopers killed 25 Communists in a series of skirmishes as the "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st Airborne Division combed the mountain lair of a North Vietnamese regiment. They have been battling since Tuesday.

Before the paratroopers moved into the area where the North Vietnamese were believed encircled, high-flying B52s from Guam saturated it with bombs.

After seven bombing runs, helicopters lifted a company of paratroopers into the charred jungles, and a battalion of the 101st began an end-to-end sweep of the ridge where an estimated 1,000 North Vietnamese were believed burrowed in.

A spokesman said the paratroopers met light, sporadic fire. AP correspondent Robert D. Ohman, with the troopers, (Turn To Page Five)

Buddhist Riots Erupt In Saigon

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
SAIGON (AP)—Buddhist-inspired demonstrations swept the streets of Saigon anew today, ending two weeks of comparative peace in the riot-weary capital of South Viet Nam.

Steel-helmeted riot police deployed around the U.S. Embassy as crowds of demonstrators led by robed monks and nuns converged on the city's center.

A score of monks were arrested at the central market, and crowds fled before clouds of tear gas fired from grenade launchers.

The demonstrations were staged at the height of the evening rush hour.

As usual, the demonstrators marched out of the Buddhist Institute some two miles from the heart of the city. The institute has been the nerve center of all Buddhist agitation in Saigon.

One group succeeded in reaching the heavily guarded Gia Long Palace, the residence of the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, whom the Buddhists want removed along with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Riot police charged the crowd there, herding the monks into police vans. Youths were taken to police stations and police said they would be sent for induction into the army.

In scattered parts of the city police removed outside Buddhist family altars, put in an emotional gesture of anti-government protest.

Rules Police May Not Quiz Suspect Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today police may not question a suspect if he is alone and "indicates in any manner that he does not wish to be interrogated."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, writing the court's main opinion, said the prosecution may not use damaging statements unless it is shown that safeguards were taken "to secure the privileges against self-incrimination."

The ruling was given in four cases which grew out of the historic 1964 decision which extended the right to counsel to a suspect in a police station.

Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White dissented in all four cases. Justice Tom C. Clark dissented in three cases and concurred with the majority in the fourth.

Warren said a defendant may waive his rights to remain silent and to have an attorney with him, "provided, the waiver is made voluntarily, knowingly and intelligently."

"If, however, he indicates in any manner and at any stage of the (questioning) process that he wishes to consult with an attorney before speaking there can be no questioning," the chief justice declared. "Likewise if the individual is alone and indicates in any manner that he does not wish to be interrogated, the police may not question him."

Meredith Marchers Continue

SOME SEEK VOTERS IN COTTON FIELDS

By BILL CRIDER

ENID, Miss. (AP)—Teams of Negroes fan out from the Meredith march into cotton plantations today to push voter registration among Negro workers in the fields.

"I'm sure we will meet with some opposition in view of the publicity on the Meredith march," said Charles Horwitz, a white staff worker for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party. "But we will go anyway."

He said he expects opposition to be minor. The main body of marchers will be on U.S. 51 again with a goal of making 20 miles to Grenada by nightfall, the largest jump to date.

March leaders are facing increasing difficulty in getting campsites. At Grenada, homes of Negroes will be open to the procession.

To cut the distance from the Enid campsite where the marchers stayed in two tents Sunday night—and to give veteran hikers a rest—a group of newcomers walked six miles Sunday to near Oakland and were returned to Enid by trucks. Today's march began where the vanguard left off.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. who rejoined the procession briefly, said they should be in Jackson—the state capital and their goal—by June 28. Their number "will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery last year," King predicted. The Selma march climaxed with 25,000 pouring into Montgomery.

After walking for a few hours, King went by car to Marks for the funeral of Armstead Phipps, who died on the march Thursday of a heart attack.

Civil rights groups around the country held meetings and symbolic marches Sunday in support of the Meredith march and to commemorate the third anniversary of the death of Medgar W. Evers. Evers, a state official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot by a sniper in the driveway of his home in Jackson.

Charles Evers, who took over his brother's job, had asked for assurances that those participating in the march would not drain Mississippi of funds for necessary work and leave after march publicity was over.

Slumism Breeds Hate: Humphrey

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey called on the nation's mayors today to join the Johnson administration in a war on "slumism," which he said breeds "disorder and demagoguery and hate" in American cities.

"Despite our housing and urban development, and education and health programs, large parts of America's cities are not fit for daily life," the vice president said.

"The enemy today within our gates is slumism," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors.

Humphrey appealed especially for support from the mayors for the demonstration cities bill now before Congress.

'You Have Guts' Westmoreland Tells Weary Men

By RICK MERRON

DAK TO, South Viet Nam (AP)—"You have shown stamina, courage and just plain guts," Gen. William C. Westmoreland told the battle-weary paratroopers "For every casualty you suffered you inflicted more than 10 on the enemy."

As the commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam pinned a Silver Star Sunday on West Point's "lonely end," Capt. William C. Carpenter, a battery of 155mm howitzers opened up on the Communists in the hills.

In five days of fighting in the treacherous, sweltering jungles of South Viet Nam's central highlands, the men of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade took all the Communists could give and gave back more and better.

Westmoreland came into the hill country Sunday, as the fighting continued against the entrenched North Vietnamese, to pay tribute to the "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st.

Speaking to the troops as they rested on jeeps, ammunition boxes or other makeshift platforms, Westmoreland told them:

"This is difficult warfare here in Viet Nam. We must master it and prove to the enemy that he is second rate. You have done just that."

The men roared their motto "Always the Best." Westmoreland shouted back: "You took the words right out of my mouth."

Westmoreland pinned the Silver Star on Carpenter as an interim medal for the 29-year-old captain's heroism in calling a napalm strike on top of his company's position. Only this dangerous move saved Carpenter and his men from being wiped out by a North Vietnamese force three times their number.

Carpenter, a hero on the gridiron six years ago, has been recommended for the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for gallantry in action, for his heroism on the battlefield.

New Optimism On Viet Expressed By Some Officials; Others Differ

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—High administration officials believe expanding U.S. combat operations in Viet Nam may hasten a turning point in the war against Communist conquest in South Viet Nam.

A new tone of optimism is apparent in official comment here, although it is not universally shared. Some highly placed officials fear that the military gains now being registered may be frustrated by new political violence in South Viet Nam or by some strategic shift on the part of Communist forces.

However the dominant administration line as developed primarily by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and apparently supported by Secretary of State Dean Rusk is that political turmoil among the South Vietnamese this spring had caused only temporary—even though serious—setbacks to the anti-Communist fight and "substantial military progress" has been made in recent weeks.

In a joint news conference with Rusk at the White House Saturday, McNamara also told reporters that offensive operations by the United States, South Vietnamese and allied forces had frustrated plans of the Communist high command for a "monsoon offensive."

Other officials indicate that the total amount of damage which allied forces are now able to inflict on Communist forces is almost in balance with the gains which the Communists are able to make by way of infiltration of troops from North Viet Nam and recruitment in the south. President Johnson decides on reinforcements from time to time. McNamara's plans call for another 100,000 or more men to go into the country on the assumption that infiltration from the north will continue, probably at an increasing rate.

The total by the end of the year is expected to be close to 400,000 American troops in South Viet Nam. But the orders to go to that level have not been given by the President.

Implicit in this situation is the U.S. willingness to reduce or withhold reinforcements if the Communists reduce or halt infiltration. But officials said there has been no evidence that the Communists intended to do anything other than pursue the conflict.

Fighting Follows Shooting

Rioters Damage 3 Police Cars

By Lawrence L. Knutson
CHICAGO (AP)—Violent street fighting erupted in a predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhood on Chicago's North Side Sunday night after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth he said had threatened him with a gun.

The surging, rock-throwing mobs numbered more than 1,000, police said.

The rioters tipped a police car on its side and burned it. Another squad car was heavily damaged. Windshields of many more were broken by rocks and hurled pop bottles. Fire was started in another police car, but quickly extinguished.

By midnight at least two dozen persons had been injured and more than 30 jailed.

Police were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris as they tried to disperse the crowds in a 10-square-block area.

Sporadic gunfire could be heard and looting was reported in several shops.

Patrolman Thomas Munyon, 25, the officer who shot the youth, described the incident:

"My partner and I went into this alley to break up a fight. This guy started to pull a gun from under his shirt and I shot him. There were about 10 or 15 persons in the alley. . . so my partner and I put the wounded man into a car and got out of there."

The wounded man was identified as Cruz Arcelis, 20.

Munyon, married and the father of two, said he fired four times and didn't know how many shots hit Arcelis.

After the incident aroused crowds poured into the streets and police canine squads were sent into the area.

A police dog bit Juan Melan, 20, and the crowd shouted disapproval. Melan was hoisted to the shoulders of friends and displayed to the crowd, then taken to a nearby hospital.

The crowd moved one block south to the corner of Damen and Division. Rocks and bottles began to fall near policemen directing traffic away from the area.

Editorial Comment

The Dominican Prospect

Commentators on the contest between Joaquin Balaguer and Juan D. Bosch for the Dominican Republic presidency have tended to picture the struggle in stark blacks and whites. Balaguer was the sensible, reform-minded middle-of-the-roader or the discredited tool of Trujillo, depending on who was describing him. Bosch was seen either as the leader of popular revolt against fascist reactionary elements that had kept the dictator in power so long, or as a pawn of international communism.

Now that Balaguer has won a decisive victory, it is high time to move away from such over-simplified views. Though Balaguer leaves a bad taste in the mouths of many Americans because of his long association with Trujillo, his election appears to offer a greater chance of stability than would have been the case under Bosch. It does not jibe with history, however, to suggest that had the latter been elected the Dominican Republic would have been inevitably drawn into the Communist orbit as another Cuba. As became evident during his previous abortive term in office, Bosch can be faulted more for lack of administrative ability than for Communist leanings.

The important thing, now, is that the Dominican Republic should have every chance to carry out its desperately needed program of rehabilitation. The U.S. State Department seems to feel that Balaguer is the better man to handle this. Now that he has been elected fair and square—in proceedings, be it noted, that were described by impartial observers as "honest and faithful"—he deserves all the support we can in good conscience provide without unduly interfering in the country's internal affairs.

Indonesia Moves Ahead

Events of recent months in Indonesia have done something to lighten the gloom in Southeast Asia. Though the situation in South Vietnam has been growing worse and worse, Indonesia's progress back toward acceptance by the international community is evidence that the Communists are not having things all their way.

The latest indication of this is the agreement reached by Indonesia and Malaysia to end their quarrel and work out a way of living together. If the promise of this agreement is borne out, the fuse will have been removed from one of the most explosive situations in that part of the world.

This turn of events is a decisive triumph for Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik, who was mainly responsible for bringing about the accord in a series of talks with Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak at Bangkok, Thailand. It is, by the same token, another setback for the discredited Indonesian leader, Sukarno, who remains as titular chief of the government but wields only a fraction of the dictatorial power he once held.

True accord between Indonesia and the young independent state of Malaysia is still distant. The present concern is to establish diplomatic relations as the basis of further advances. But the progress already made is a welcome additional sign that Indonesia's new government, which came to power after a purge of Sukarno's Communist supporters, means business and is moving along lines favorable to the West.

Dear Ann:

Will Your Child Die of Poisoning?

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Today was one of the most heartbreaking days of my life—and I am well past 50 years of age. I attended the funeral of an adorable little boy, just four years old. He lived next door to us and I have never known a friendlier, brighter or more affectionate child. He died because someone was careless. It was his mother. Can you imagine how she feels?

It was a very innocent looking bottle—after all, aspirin isn't poison, or so his mother thought. And it isn't as if they taste very good. But the youngster climbed up on a chair in the bathroom and helped himself. He was supposed to be taking his nap, so his mother didn't check him for over an hour.

When she found him on the bathroom floor she thought he had fallen and struck his head. By the time she got him to the hospital it was too late. The doctor said he had eaten about 20 aspirin tablets.

Please, Ann Landers, print this letter. Everyone knows that iodine and bleaches and gasoline and kerosene can kill children. But a great many people are ignorant about aspirin. Please, please use your tremendous influence to alert the public to this danger. Thank you.—HEART-BROKEN NEIGHBOR

Dear Neighbor: Here is your letter and now I would like to add a few words of my own. Not only medicines but cleaning fluids, furniture polish, ammonia, drain cleaners, insecticides, paint thinners, hair dyes, nail polish remover, and countless other items can kill a child. The best rule is this: Keep all such articles locked up and out of reach of your children. Over 400,000 American youngsters will be poisoned this year. Will yours be among them?

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a mother who tricked me into getting a short haircut? I'm going to tell you exactly what happened and I want your advice.

My folks came home from a trip. When my mother saw me she flipped. I knew she would make me get a haircut right away, but I thought I had her talked into letting me wear my hair a little longer than usual. All I wanted was the sides trimmed and the back evened up.

Well, we went to the barber shop and my mother started to talk to the barber in Jewish. I thought she was asking him about his family or something personal. So I didn't pay any attention. What she was really telling him was to cut my hair off VERY SHORT!

How can a kid fight this sort of thing?—SKINNED RAT

Dear Skinned: You'd better learn Jewish or switch to an Italian barber.

'There's Only One Truth' Is Ugly Washington Sound

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Caught inevitably in the multiplying complexities of this age, Washington today is still a place where attitudes are quickly polarized and issues reduced to oversimplified stereotypes.

Twenty years ago, when we were just moving into the thickets of postwar problems, this was a bit more understandable. In those days, to be against Henry Wallace in the controversy over his appointment as secretary of commerce was to be labeled an enemy of full employment. Henry had written a book promising 60 million jobs.

There seems much less excuse today. Congress, government and other agencies pour out voluminous reports detailing every facet of our problems. Hundreds more newsmen are on hand to scan and record every significant variation on a major theme.

Yet, for all the torrent of words, little comes through but the main threads of the music. A Senate committee, looking into automotive safety, hammered so emphatically on the evident shortcomings of today's cars that the country must surely conclude that drivers are almost totally blameless in the making of fatal accidents.

A motorist familiar with these hearings might confidently shout "Detroit brutality!" as he runs a red light and slams into another car.

One would hardly know that so much college-level safety research is under way that the National Safety Council maintains a "correlation service" to keep track of it; that much of it is directed to the make-up and performance of the driver, and that many completed studies deal harshly with him.

In the present state of the issue, to call up such evidence is to "come to the defense of Detroit," if not to appear just a little inhuman and undemocratic.

In the light of the real complexities of the safety problem, which embraces not only the car and the driver but the engineering and condition of the road, the too-often irresponsible placing and labeling of road signs, and other factors, what Washington has produced is badly misleading to the general public.

Another example: In this seat of the world's most powerful government, the huge press corps is admirably disposed to be vigilant against government-inspired false information, excessive secrecy, a smothering of opposition viewpoints.

Nevertheless, the posture of aggressive skepticism can be overdone. In this town it often is.

Shocking dispatches from Da Nang in South Viet Nam, reporting the incredible brutality and cynicism of rebel Buddhists, must go down hard with residence. We can speak from personal experience of the excellence of his cream.

TO KILL FLIES — Take half a teaspoonful of black pepper, powdered well, one teaspoon of sugar and one teaspoon of cream. When mixed well, and put on a plate, it will prove effective.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — A chunky, bald man, showing his 72 years, drove up to a Moscow voting place in a chauffeur-driven car with his wife and a bodyguard, cast his ballot, and left without cheers or catcalls.

Sunday was the first time Nikita Khrushchev, living on a pension now, had appeared in public since he voted last year. He is as close to being anonymous as the present Soviet leaders can make him.

Being forced to live out his life in obscurity, since the new bosses bounced him as the No. 1 man in October 1964, may seem harsh. But almost certainly it is more than Stalin would have permitted.

That he can go on living at all after losing in the Soviet power struggle is as good testimony as any to the change he wrought in the Soviet Union and, as a result, in the world.

Thus his present obscurity is only temporary, even though it lasts his lifetime. But his exact place in history is not at all certain since it will depend upon what eventually happens to communism.

He was not an innovator in the field of tangles, like Stalin who drove and dragged the Soviet Union into the atomic and space age and, at frightful cost in lives and luxury, gave it industry.

Khrushchev's contribution, over the 10 years in which he dominated most of communism, was in the field of the spirit, which may seem an odd word to associate with a man so earthy, tempestuous and unpredictable.

Stalin was totally dedicated to the triumph of the Communist state, no matter the cost to the people in it. Khrushchev rendered such Red fanaticism ludicrous and obscene when he revealed Stalin as a monster and murderer.

Khrushchev didn't lessen the importance of the state. But he made life and people more important than Stalin could have imagined or tolerated by relaxing the cold war inside and outside of the Soviet Union.

Inside, the people, harassed less by the secret police, could breathe a little freer, could express a little discontent, even though timidly, while the state paid more attention to their needs and their comforts.

Outside, there were thunderclaps. Red China broke with the Kremlin. Unrest bubbled through the satellites and is not ended. There was an uprising in (Turn To Market Page)

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That irrepressible sprite from Blighy, Beatrice Lillie, is here to play her first Hollywood role in — heavens, could it be that long? — 28 years.

Indeed that's what the record books say: Her last film here was "Dr. Rhythm" with Bing Crosby in 1938.

"My, how the time does fly!" remarked Miss Lillie as though she had just made up the expression.

She was discoursing on various matters in the lobby of the Chateau Marmont, the venerable hostelry favored by visitors from the New York theater. Miss Lillie was having a day off from "Thoroughly Modern Millie," and she didn't like it one bit.

"I would much rather be working with all those darlings out at Universal," she said airily. Besides, she hinted darkly, they might be doing things behind her back.

She expressed admiration for the star of "Millie," Julie Andrews: "What a lovely, lovely girl. And what a great talent. I shall have to do something about those girls. Too much talent."

Miss Lillie was perhaps indulging in a bit of realism for her role in the film. She plays a talent scout for an Oriental white slavery ring and throughout the movie she tries to do in Mary Tyler Moore. But she turns out to be a maladroit murderess and all her schemes — poison darts, lethal gas, etc. — go awry.

Under the direction of George Roy Hill, Miss Lillie has been exercising her free-wheeling comic style, though she hasn't been allowed to wheeze as freely as she would like.

At the age of (censored), the comedienne seems little changed from when she made her Broadway debut in (censored).

"No ages," she warned the interviewer before departing for the studio. She was wearing slacks, a brightly checkered blouse and oversized sunglasses. Her face was smooth and there was bounce in her step.

How does she manage to remain ever youthful?

"Clean living and clean thinking," she replied, adding as an afterthought, "Yeah-yuh."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Cross-Eyed Children Need Early Treatment

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Every baby who looks in two directions at once is not cross-eyed. It takes a child about six months to learn to focus on an object with both eyes. If this habit has not been formed by that time he will probably need help and the sooner it is given the better the end result.

When both eyes do not focus on a single point, the brain receives two images. Since we are not birds, for whom this type of vision is normal, we tend to ignore one image and concentrate on the other. This weakens the ability to see the eye with the ignored image.

When this condition is allowed to progress until a child is 6, the chances of saving the sight in the weak eye are poor and yet this type of preventable one-sided blindness is still too common. Here are some of the things to watch for in your preschool child: persistent tilting of the head to one side, frowning or squinting, rubbing the eyes, shutting or covering one eye, holding picture book too close, persistent blinking, unusual eye movements, stumbling over low objects, avoidance of light and redness or watering of the eyes.

A simple test for crossed eyes is to have your child look at the tip of your nose. If the vision in the good eye shifts to focus on the other eye, it is cross-eyed. If it does not shift this may be the dominant eye so repeat the maneuver covering the eye not previously covered. If the degree of crossing is so mild you can detect it only by this test there is a good chance that it can be corrected without an operation.

Your eye doctor can block the vision in the good eye for a week or two at a time to strengthen the vision in the weaker eye. This type of treatment may have to be continued for five or six months, but if the weakness has not been corrected after six months this treatment should be abandoned. Surgery may or may not then be required.

Q—Is it harmful for a child of preschool age to drink chocolate milk instead of whole milk?

A—Since such a child is likely to get too much sugar and not enough fat, whole milk would be better for him.

We, the Women Short Cut to Boss' Heart Has Some Pitfalls

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A school for secretaries who aim to marry their bosses has just opened in London.

Head of the school, Leslie Clayton, who married her boss nine years ago, has gotten a lot of publicity from her frank announcement: "Each of my girls should marry her boss. The girl who finishes our course will be a knockout in any office."

Along with dictation and typing, the girls who are being taught how to first land a job and then the boss, will be trained in hair styling, good grooming, the artistry of make-up, etiquette, flower arranging, dancing, interior decorating — and last but not least (if there's any truth in that) old saying, "feed the brute"; they'll be taught to cook by professional chefs.

Even with all that coaching, marrying the boss may not be as easy for the school's graduates as its founder thinks. For one thing, the lady has tipped her hand by admitting that she is training girls to marry the boss. She should have kept quiet about that — since men are scared to death of obviously husband-hunting girls.

Also, when she places a secretary with an eligible young bachelor with the assurance that if she plays her cards right she ought to be able to marry him, she just may be placing her in the office of a young man who has heard that it's just as easy to marry the boss' daughter as his secretary — and has his own eye on the daughter of the president of the company.

And with all that publicity for her boss-marrying school, how is she ever going to place a girl as secretary to a man who already has a wife? She won't if the wife can help it — and the wife probably can.

There may even be some bosses left who, when they hire a secretary, want a girl who concentrates on taking dictation and typing and not one who is busy arranging flowers, cooking up a gourmet dish on a hot plate or rearranging the furniture in the reception room when they want to dictate an important letter.

Hawaiian Delight

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Katsuro Miho of Honolulu, a leader among Japanese-Americans of Hawaii, and legal counselor for many mainland and Oriental corporations, has three loves—his wife, his two handsome sons and fine food. Noted for his mastery of the outdoor grill, he often prepares the main dishes when he and the talented Mrs. Miho entertain at home.

One noon we lunched together at Michel's in the Colony-Surf, along the shore beyond Diamond Head. Probably the most exclusive restaurant on the island, completely French in cuisine, decor and atmosphere, there is nothing about the place to remind one of its Polynesian setting. Our Japanese-born host ordered our Continental meal.

The following evening we dined at his home in the volcanic hills above the city. Toshio Shibata, of the influential Yomiuri Press of Japan, en route to conferences at Harvard University, two local Japanese bankers and their wives and a young American medical research scientist from John Hopkins University and his wife, were the other guests. The dinner, served on the open rock garden, overlooking the city and the lights on planes and ships coming into Honolulu harbor, began with small flower-shaped china cups of poached local clams in broth with minced seaweed. Next came a delicate potato soup, also in flower bowls, which our host called "Vichyssoise a la Tokyo."

On an earlier visit to the islands, he had prepared "kosher corned beef Japanese style" for us—a masterpiece of international charcoal cookery. This time, however, he served a spit-roasted sirloin, basted as it turned with a marinade of pineapple juice, freshly ground ginger root, soy sauce and dry sherry.

Between the beef and dessert (tropical fruits with fruit ices) we were served tiny cucumber slices with diced lobster and grated hard-cooked egg yolk on them, topped with more cucumber slices. During dinner we drank warm saki in thimblelike lacquer cups and later strong clear Iona coffee.

FALL PLUMAGE — This costume from the fall collection of designer Rudi Gernreich, famed for the topless bathing suit, is all afutter with feathers—from real ones on the model's head to the fabric all over her high neckline and on stockings.

Polly's Pointers
Iron Skillet
Needs Cleaning
By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—I would like to know how to get the hard crust off the OUTSIDE of my iron skillet. The inside is all right but I have tried all sorts of things on the outside. I would appreciate any help. —MRS. J. C. K.

DEAR MRS. J. C. K.—Quite a long time ago a reader answered this and her suggestion appears in our Polly's Pointers Booklet as follows: "Use regular commercial oven cleaners to clean the outside of a cast iron skillet or pan. Follow directions on the package." Hope this will help you. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is in answer to Mrs. O. O. W's request for the way to make bedroom slippers out of washcloths. One washcloth makes one slipper. Fold washcloth in half and sew a narrow hem up the back leaving about 1½ to 2 inches to fold down. This makes a casing in which ¼-inch elastic is inserted when the slipper is finished. Trim the first stitching and turn up the point at one end to make the heel. Sew in place. Sew seam up the front. The pointed end is the toe. Run the elastic, with a safety pin fastened to one end, through the casing and sew the ends together.

A nice after-bath robe is easy to make with two bath towels. Lay two matching towels, one on top of the other, then measure and mark the long side 9 inches from one end (for armhole) and 12 inches from the other end (for slit) and stitch between these markings. Repeat this on the other long side. Gather ends of towels into about 14 inches to make the neck. Sew trimming on neck edges leaving enough at each end to tie on the shoulders. A set of washcloth slippers and matching towel robe make a nice gift. —CHARLENE

GIRLS—Mrs. J. E. H. makes her slippers the same way but gives them a nice finish by sewing the heels and toes together with the zigzag stitch on her sewing machine. Mrs. G. W. A. uses a piece of outing flannel to make innersoles which are stitched from side to side and end to end to stay in place. This gives longer wear to the slippers. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Are your little tin spice cans hard to open? If so, try my husband's suggestion. Four cooking oil into a bottle cap and with a toothpick put a drop or two of the oil on each slide.

Slide the opening t-b back and forth several times and from then on the spice can will glide open quickly and easily. —ELSIE

A player who takes time to compliment his partner is likely to be popular. South smiled happily when he saw dummy and said, "Nice bidding, partner."

He won the diamond lead with his ace and played his ace of spades. East showed out and at this point South had no way to make his grand slam. He made a valiant effort but it was too little and too late. He started by ruffing a diamond and returning to his hand with a trump. Then he ruffed his last diamond and led a club to his king. East held seven clubs and West was able to ruff.

Of course this play did increase South's general popularity. Both opponents were delighted.

South was indignant. His tre was directed against the blind goddess of chance. Who else but poor South did she punish that way? Who else would find all three trumps in one hand and all seven clubs in the other? The odds against that particular bad break would have to be at least a million to one.

The odds are nothing like that. When you miss seven of a suit you will run into a 7-0 break about once in 200 times. A suit breaks 3-0 about 22 times in a hundred. When you make further allowance for the extra probability that if one man holds all seven clubs the other is very likely to be long in spades, you get a compound probability of less than one in a thousand.

Anyway, South had no reason to blame Lady Luck for his misfortune. Once the ace of diamonds held, he could ruff a diamond with the jack of trumps; lead a trump to his ten; ruff another diamond with the queen; draw trumps and score the grand slam.

for action to rebuild completely entire central and slum areas of our cities," he said.

He emphasized that it is not intended to "cancel out or curtail programs we already have under way" such as urban renewal and the antipoverty programs.

Instead, Humphrey said, it "would mean a substantial increment of new money for the city" designed to help "you do far more, to do it better and more effectively than you have been doing."

Humphrey was the main speaker on the third day of the conference.

Major issues of the meeting so far have been the need for more money, particularly from the federal government, and Viet Nam.

There appears to be considerable feeling developing that maybe too many dollars are going into the Viet Nam war at a time when cities are desperately in need of more money from Washington.

Primary

will be elected in each district in November.

Also to be nominated are congressional candidates in the state's 24 districts, and a few of these involve contests of note.

The congressional primary contest which has attracted wide interest nationally is that in Chicago's 1st District between Rep. William L. Dawson, 80, veteran Negro power in the House, and Fred D. Hubbard, 36, an active civil rights leader.

Both men are Negroes running in a preponderantly Negro district where Hubbard has challenged the Democratic organization's power aligned behind Dawson. Hubbard was wounded in the shoulder May 6 in his South Side campaign office by an unknown gunman, a development which added heat to the campaigning.

Another youth-versus-age struggle has been waged in the 2nd District, Chicago, between O'Hara, 84, a seven-term in Congress, and State Rep. Abner Mikva, 40, seeking a chance at the U.S. House for the first time.

Two other incumbent Democratic congressmen face opponents Tuesday, but neither was considered in serious trouble. Rep. Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort is challenged by Victor Drysdale of Herrin, a welder, and Rep. George Shipley of Olney is running against Allen Radcliff of Alton, a law student and public relations man.

Voters will elect members of both the Republican and Democratic state central committees Tuesday.

Rioting

Spanish-speaking police, youth workers and Catholic priests used bullhorns to plead with the crowds to leave. They were ignored or shouted down.

A rock smashed a squad car windshield and a mass of screaming youths moved toward two empty police cars. They smashed windows and tore the hood off one, then moved to the other chanting.

The car was rocked back and forth, then turned on its side. Almost immediately flames shot from the gas tank. A column of black, greasy smoke rose high above the street.

Firemen, arriving to fight the flames, were pelted with stones as they wrestled with hoses among the crowds.

Police moved back into the area and charged the crowds.

A woman and her 3-year-old child were knocked down and bruised in the melee.

Police vans, loaded with officers armed with drawn guns and heavy wooden nightsticks, ranged up and down dimly-lit side streets in an attempt to keep order as incidents erupted one by one. There seemed to be no leadership in the crowds.

At Evergreen Ave., a line of fire stretched across Damen Ave. Teen-agers had poured gasoline and then ignited it.

Several persons in the crowd waved Puerto Rican flags. Fire crackers and cherry bombs exploded.

reported they found pieces of flesh and torn clothing.

A report from 1st field headquarters at Kontum, 35 miles to the south, said 377 North Vietnamese bodies had been counted since heavy fighting started last Tuesday and that another 425 were estimated to have perished. The total of 802 Communist dead nearly doubled the 406 enemy casualties reported by the U.S. command in Saigon.

Except for the fighting in the central highlands, ground action generally was reported light.

The U.S. 1st Marine Division ended Operation Apache 12 miles northwest of Chu Lai and reported killing 22 Viet Cong and capturing 19. The Leathernecks also seized four tons of rice.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's combat police continued his effort to reassert government control in dissident northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue by removing some Buddhist altars from a street near the central market. However, Buddhist students immediately showed the altars back into the street.

The police also tried to remove two altars from in front of the entrance of the Vietnamese 1st Division headquarters but gave up when a crowd of Buddhists surrounded them.

A Buddhist communiqué warned that President Johnson would be blamed if "something happens" to the Buddhist chief in Hue, Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang, who is in the sixth day of an antigovernment hunger strike.

Doubts Graham's London Crusade To Show Deficit

LONDON (AP)—The director of Billy Graham's Greater London Crusade said today he doesn't expect the month long series of meetings to show a deficit.

The Sunday Telegraph said Sunday the crusade might end with a deficit of $70,000. It reported contributions of 220,000 pounds ($316,000) expected from churches fell short by about 20,000 pounds ($30,000) and that collections at the rallies had been disappointing.

Walter Smyth of Philadelphia, the crusade's director, commented.

"At this time it is hard to say whether there will be a deficit or a surplus, but the crusade is following a normal pattern. The audiences are increasing, and from all indications all bills will be met by the close of the crusade July 2."

Graham held conferences with missionary leaders and friends today, studying plans for crusades. One will be in West Berlin, in October.

Graham strolled through London Sunday shaking hands and waving to people staring at him from windows.

"Some thought I was running for office," he said, "but others just had no idea who I was."

Later the evangelist went to St. Matthew's Anglican Church for a special service arranged by 20 south London churches.

The church was jammed with about 2,000 persons, about half of them Negro immigrants. Another thousand stood in the churchyard listening to loud-speakers.

Ethel Waters, famed Negro performer, sang while Graham preached.

SWEDEN REJECTS U.S. REQUESTS TO PURCHASE ARMS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Munitions trade sources say the Swedish government has turned down repeated United States requests to buy Swedish arms and ammunition for the use of American forces in Viet Nam.

Harvard Prof. John Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, said Sunday in Providence, R.I.,

"Sweden... has thought so little of our Viet Nam policy that she has imposed an arms embargo—a guarantee—upon us."

There has been no official confirmation of the reports in Washington or Stockholm.

Swedish Trade Minister Gunnar Lange said May 25 his department had not turned down any U.S. request to buy arms.

Several days later, the Pentagon acknowledged that it had made "informal inquiries" about which types of TNT explosives were available in Sweden. It was learned that Swedish manufacturers had refused to sell explosives to the U.S.

SAVANNA GRANT OK'D WASHINGTON (AP)—The Economic Development Administration announced today approval of a $348,000 grant and a $348,000 loan to help Savanna, Ill., extend its storm and sanitary sewer lines to permit industrial growth.

The loan will run for 40 years at 3 1/2 per cent interest.

NEW YORK (AP)—The host Bulova Watchmakers upset the University of Illinois Gizz Kids, 126-71 in the battle for team honors in the 10th annual National Wheelchair Games Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP) — Weather is giving the air conditioning industry more concern than President Johnson's plea for restraint in spending by consumers and in plant expansion by business.

On the plus side, cooling experts are basing big hopes just now on Medicare, the education explosion and the complicated technical fields fascinating the nation's industries.

"A temporary curtailment in spending should not substantially affect the air conditioning and refrigeration industry's prospects over the next five years," says William H. Roberts, president of the York Division of Borg-Warner. "The main reason is air conditioning now is considered a necessity rather than a luxury."

"It's not that we question the president's persuasive powers." A. J. Hackl, president of Worthington Air Conditioning Co., explains. "We agree spending cut-backs will be made in certain areas as a result of his request. But air conditioning no longer can be considered a nonessential item, either for businessmen or homeowners."

But weather is another thing. And a late cool spring has cut the sale of room coolers while other consumer durable goods were booming. Sudden arrival of hot weather in some parts of the nation belatedly has sent sales up smartly. Borg-Warner says its May sales were the highest for any month in its history.

But the industry is looking beyond the window cooler to the central air conditioner for homes and the use in hospitals, schools, office buildings and factories.

Sales of central units for homes were around 600,000 in 1965, but Trane Co. predicts 1970 will see 1 million units sold. It also notes 75 per cent of all new apartment house units built in 1965 were air conditioned. The Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute adds that 51,626 residential unit systems were exported last year.

A challenging market is industrial technological needs. Chemical, fertilizer and steel companies are using increasingly lower temperature processes. Some call for temperatures below minus 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

Food processing, the biggest customer of the cooling industry, is still expanding, as are the printing and textile industries.

Sales of auto air conditioners were around 2.5 million units in 1965 and are expected to hit 4.5 million units in 1970.

Growing concern over air pollution is counted upon to boost a sideline of the air conditioning business. Honeywell, which makes electronic air cleaning units, says sales are mushrooming. It puts industry sales at $6 million in 1961 and $20 million in 1965, with a goal of $70 million by 1970 when makers think one of every 10 new homes will be so equipped.

ASHLAND YOUTH NAMED TO SING AT CONFERENCE

ASHLAND—Marvin King, a May graduate of Ashland High school, has been selected to sing in the Illinois All State Chorus to perform at the International Society of Music Educators conference at Interlochen, Mich., in August.

Members were selected from the All-Star Chorus, a group of 200 voices consisting of high school juniors and seniors, chosen by audition last November.

This group performed at the Illinois Music Educators State meeting held in Peoria in January. The Illinois All-State Chorus will be one of only six American programs given at the international conference.

Marvin King has been an active chorus member; a National Honor Society member; active in athletics and school activities; class salutatorian; recipient of several scholarships, and a member of the Ashland Baptist church. He will enter the University of Illinois in September.

Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murl King, of this city. Vocal instructor of Ashland schools is Miss Mary Ann White.

Kenny Murray, son of Mrs. Ann Murray, of this city, is a senior at the University at Champaign, is majoring in zoology and chemistry. He resides in Townsend Hall on the campus.

Kenny plans to attend Northwestern Medical school in the fall.

Mailbag Quotes From Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some 122 million Americans — six out of 10 — visited their doctors last year. As usual, the women outnumbered the men.

Your chances of becoming a centenarian are getting better all the time. There are now more than 12,000 who have reached the age of 100.

Science may not be able to cure wrinkles — but at long last it feels it knows what caused them. They are believed to result from the gradual loss of a chemical called hyaluronic acid, which helps hold water in skin tissues.

If you want to sell somebody something during office hours, avoid Mondays and Fridays. A survey found salesmen make most sales on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and prospects were more likely to buy in the morning than in the afternoon.

The nation now has 95.6 million licensed motor vehicle drivers. At this rate the country should soon reach a historic milestone: It'll have more front-than back-seat drivers.

Prosperity note: Most people are living higher on the hog — but more are going broke, too. Personal bankruptcies tripled from 51,000 in 1955 to 163,400 in 1965.

Worth remembering: "If you insist on a place in the sun, you must expect some blisters."

There's no business that booms like government business.
